Bountiful business a total loss after weekend fire

by Becky GINOS
bginos@davisclipper.com

BOUNTIFUL—A blaze that ripped through the old Duncan Electric Building at approximately 265 South Main early Saturday morning left one business a total loss and several others with significant smoke and water damage.

"It started in the Echo Broadband suite," said South Davis Metro Chief Jeff Bassett. "Our engineer was doing a morning truck check when he saw a column of smoke coming from the building. He started yelling at the guys to come up so they got ready to go. Then we started getting calls that the building was on fire."

Station 81 sits just west of the building at 255 South 100 West. "We were on scene really quick," Bassett said. "We accessed it on the 300 South side and when we arrived we found heavy, black smoke to the floor. It was an intense fire."

Bassett said the remodeled building that now holds several businesses is constructed with steel decking between floors to prevent a fire from spreading to other parts of the structure. "It doesn't allow the fire to spread as much but it's hotter and retains the heat and smoke."

Kaysville, Farmington and Salt Lake Fire departments assisted with the two-alarm fire. "We brought in two extra ladder trucks just in case because the building is so big," he said. "It's a maze of a building so that's dangerous for our firefighters because there's not a centralized layout. There are twists and turns."

Three firefighters were injured, said Bassett. "One rolled an ankle and the other two had smoke inhalation and heat exhaustion. They were treated on scene. Thankfully they were minor."

Bassett said there were people in the beauty salon who were evacuated. "It was extinguished pretty quickly but did reach the second floor. There were so many plastics, PVCs and materials with a heavy carbon footprint of smoke it took a long time to get the smoke out."

Estimated damage is $850,000. "That's probably going to climb," he said. "Investigators were there all day on Saturday. Echo is a total loss and all the other businesses have smoke damage and will have to be cleaned."

AlphaGraphics employees Dani Buttars and Erin Richey were there Monday morning along with their coworkers helping clean. "My office is toast," said Buttars. "It's got smoke and water damage."

"I got lucky," said Richey. "My office door was closed and it is the farthest away. Someone was driving by and called to say 'I think your building is on fire.' The employees came but we just stood and watched there was nothing we could do. Our owner is amazing. We're just getting it done so we can get back to work."

Building manager Jared Adair said he was on his way to a flag football game when he got the call. "Ironically my son had just said something smelled like a campfire. We didn't realize it was the building. The fire department got here so quick they did a lot to prevent it from spreading."

Investigators believe the blaze was caused by discarded oily rags that may have ignited.

Farmington Community Color Run this Saturday

FARMINGTON—A colorful tradition will continue on May 18 when Farmington Elementary School’s PTA sponsors a Community 5K Color Run/Walk. It will begin at 9 a.m. at Forbush Park adjacent to the school near 200 South 200 West.

There are three categories: 5K, Color Bash, 5K Color Run for a family of six. Along the 5K course, runners will be doused in different colors of powder, making participants look like walking or running rainbow monsters. You may also see participants hopping on pogo sticks, pushing strollers, or even walking or crawling. All is for a good cause – benefitting PTA programs at the school.

The race will be followed by a hot breakfast for participants, and then a color bomb. Let’s just say it’s fun, but messy. Don’t worry – the colors wash out easily. Registration is $85 for a team of six or less, or $25 for an individual. That includes a T-shirt, breakfast and color packet (powder) to throw during the Color Bash at race’s end.

Registration online ended May 15, but you can also register the day of the race from 7:30-8:30 a.m.

Civil rights suit filed against Davis School District over bus driver

SALT LAKE CITY—A civil rights lawsuit was filed against Davis School District last week in U.S. District Court claiming a bus driver bullied and assaulted two boys because of their race.

Brenda Mayes said in a press conference she didn’t want to take legal action but doesn’t want it to happen to anyone else. The suit claims the driver deliberately shut the bus door on Mayes’ son’s backpack as he was getting off at West Point Junior High leaving the backpack inside as his body dangled outside.

The driver allegedly drove about 175 feet with the child pinned to the outside of the door, according to the complaint. The suit also alleges there were multiple complaints against the driver dating back to 2017 over discriminatory actions.

Court documents state the district sent an email to Mayes assuring her they had taken swift and decisive action, but she claims the bus driver was not fired but allowed to retire.

“When issues of discrimination are raised at any time, they are investigated thoroughly,” said Davis School District Community Relations Supervisor Shauna Lund. “We take any claims of racial discrimination seriously and do not tolerate any form of racial discrimination in our schools. I can confirm the bus driver in question no longer works for Davis School District.”

The suit alleges violations of the Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and violations of the Equal Protection Clause of the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution under the 1983 Civil Rights Act.

Police looking for missing Layton woman

LAYTON—The Layton Police Department is asking for the public’s help to locate a missing person who was last seen leaving her residence early in the morning on March 6.

Angelica Quintana Carrillo, 27, was seen leaving on foot and has not been in contact with her family or friends since that day, police said. Quintana is 5’1” with brown hair and brown eyes. Anyone who has seen her or had contact with her is asked to contact the Layton Police Department at 801-497-8300 and reference case #19-04521.
Opinion

Many Utah women have had notable achievements

Several weeks ago I pondered in this column about the challenges for female presidential candidates getting support from working-class men. A reader later asked me directly if I had ever worked for a woman boss. Yes, on several occasions, and I have seen impressive leadership from men and women. My gut response is that female leaders can be as demanding as men, but show more empathy, work harder, and are much stronger in problem solving tasks.

A new young adult book from a Utah publisher (“Champion of Change: 25 Women Who Made History”) shows that leadership is not gender-specific. In a foreword to the book, Utah author Shannon Hale noted that history texts often forget the “women’s story.” Hale writes, “In high school, history classes focus on the doings of men with barely one class period brushing over the women’s suffrage movement. In English we studied novels written by men; in Science we studied the discoveries of men; in Drama we performed the plays written by men… I felt deeply unsure that as a girl, there was a place for me in this world.”

“Champions of Change” should change that, including a glimpse of numerous notable achievements by Utahns.

For instance, Mignon Barker Richmond attended Utah State University where a professor told her, “You’ll never get more than a ‘C’ from me because you are a Negro.” The Salt Lake women persisted, though it would take 27 years before she was hired for a professional position. A leader in the nutrition and school lunch programs, she later headed the Women’s Job Corps programs under Pres. Lyndon Johnson and was chairwoman of the Project Medicare Alert.

Emmeline B. Wells was appointed by Brigham Young to head a church-based grain-saving program and was a leader in the state’s women’s suffrage movement. (She turned down a nomination for Salt Lake County Treasurer because women were not eligible to hold office in the Utah Territory.) Internationally known, she represented the United States in London at International Council of Women.

Emma J. McVicker, an early champion of free kindergarten, would become Utah’s first woman to serve as State Superintendent of Schools, and she was fiercely protective of children and working mothers.

Ivy Baker Priest grew up in poverty, but would later serve as the Treasurer of the United States. A proponent of women’s rights, she once said, “We don’t care too much about history shows that leadership never get more than a ‘C’ from me.”

The most widely recognized Utahn in the book is Martha Hughes Cannon, the first female State Senator in the United States. She defeated her own husband Angus M. Cannon. A Salt Lake newspaper described her as the “better man of the two.” By the age of 25, Martha had earned two Bachelor degrees and was called by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints to become the resident physician at its Deseret Hospital. She would later author the state’s sanitation laws along with strong, controversial stands on the need for women’s educational opportunities. (“You give me a woman who thinks about something besides cook stoves and wash tubs and baby flannels, and I’ll show you, nine times out of 10, a successful mother.”)

Will working-class men ever support a female presidency? I’m not sure, but history shows that leadership doesn’t always come in a pinstripe suit. As English Prime Minister, Margaret Thatcher once said, “If you want anything said, ask a woman.”

Veterans Park event this Saturday

BOUNTFUL — A kickoff celebration will begin at 6 p.m. this Saturday at the 400 North Park for the Bountiful Veterans Park. In addition to honoring veterans on Armed Forces Day, the event will allow residents to see plans for the park that will be constructed just north of city hall. There will be music, food, guest speakers, and an opportunity to see how the public can support the park’s construction.

Our May 9 issue detailed plans for the park, which will serve as a tribute to veterans who have served and are now serving in the U.S. Military. The new park will include a five-flag semicircle (representing the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force and Coast Guard), two sidewalks lined with engraved pavers along with benches and trees, a lawn-berm amphitheatre for programs, and a plaza with a dedicated place that honors POWs and MIAs.

Congressman Chris Stewart will offer an address at the celebration, along with other guest speakers who will detail plans for the park. A concert by “Endless Summer,” a Beach Boys tribute band, will follow the presentations at about 7 p.m.

The Foundation has established a website at www.bountifulcityveteranspark.org where you can gain more information.

Chinese delegation visits Heritage Elementary

by Becky GINOS
bginos@davisclipper.com

LAYTON—Chinese immersion students at Heritage Elementary had the chance to strut their stuff last week as several education commissioners from China came to see how the program works as part of the Sesquicentennial Celebration for the Golden Spike National Historic Celebration.

“They’ve been in Ogden and went to Weber State University this morning,” said Principal Ruthanne Keller. “Then they wanted to see an immersion school.”

Other dignitaries included Rep. Stephen Handy, Rep. Melissa Ballard, Davis District Superintendent Reid Newey and school board members Marie Stevenson and Brigit Gerrard.

CHINESE INTERN WANG JIE (WINNIE) teaches a kindergarten class. Students receive instruction in both English and Chinese.

Immersion teacher Yu Haiqing (Louisa) gave her perspective of the program to the delegation in Chinese. English speaking teacher Sherice Phillips said the two work closely together.

“We enjoy being in the immersion program,” said Phillips. “It’s good for the students. We’ve been doing this for five years and we’ve got it down pretty good.”

“I admire our teachers that teach in the immersion program,” said Keller. “They have to collaborate a lot to cover curriculum. They work extra hard with an added layer of teaching Chinese to kids who are just learning.”

“They’ll be the ones to build bridges of economics and culture.”

— Howard Stephenson

Former Sen. Howard Stephenson said it might seem like children wouldn’t do as well in math and science using a second language. “But studies show they actually do better. Using a character language helps bridge the gap in coding. These children are America’s future because they are bilingual. They’ll be the ones to build bridges of economics and culture.”

Long-time volunteer honored in Fruit Heights

FRUIT HEIGHTS—Carol Stewart was honored on May 7 for her more than 20 years of volunteer service to Fruit Heights City and its residents. In a ceremony during city council meeting, Council member Julia Busche read a tribute to Stewart, and shared that with the Clipper, which we in turn are sharing with our readers:

“Tonight we are going to do something a little different than usual. We have an opportunity to honor a truly great citizen and volunteer who has contributed a significant amount of time, energy, knowledge, and personality to the city of Fruit Heights.

“Carol Stewart has been serving in one capacity or another in Fruit Heights City ever since she and her husband Gary moved here in 1977. Not too long after moving in, she was asked by Mayor Dean Brand to help unify the east and west sides of Fruit Heights by writing articles for the Ridgerunner, our bimonthly newsletter. For several years, she wrote what she called, ‘Community Corner,’ a few paragraphs each month about different families and interesting things about city members. She got to know a lot of people from that assignment, which would serve her well in coming years.

“She also served for several years as the secretary for the Board of Adjustments. She also served on a committee formed of several small groups in Fruit Heights to understand some of the problems facing a small city. Later, tax redistribution helped the city financially and we learned to live without much of a commercial tax base. She loved working with then City Manager Belva Provost who encouraged her to continue her service in the community.

“In the mid 1990s, Carol ran twice for City Council, both times coming up short of a win. She later decided the reason she wanted to run was really to be a volunteer, and you don’t have to run for office to volunteer in this city. She joined the Emergency Preparedness Committee, now known officially as the Citizen Corps Council. She was grateful she could serve without ‘getting into any trouble or receiving angry phone calls late at night.”

“Carol was the individual who mapped out our city into areas — we are now up to 15 different areas — the numbers of areas has grown over the years as our city has grown. She’s made countless phone calls and emails, organizing these areas and even knocked on many doors, throughout our neighborhoods, looking for volunteers to serve as area coordinators. It’s an efficient way to distribute emergency information in our city. Each single Sunday evening at 9:30 p.m., the Citizen Corps Council holds a hand held radio net call with all of the 15 area coordinators, practicing our communication capabilities and disseminating information to everyone. In the event of an actual emergency, this will be an invaluable tool to help our community. Every year her big push has been the Great Utah Shakeout, held annually in April, to practice our ability to be prepared in the event of an earthquake. She has had great success, with the help of the CCC and her area coordinators to get the word out to residents.

“Carol has been serving on the CCC as the District Coordinator for nearly 20 years, and is retiring after never having earned a penny. Everything she has done for Fruit Heights

by Becky GINOS bginos@davisclipper.com

BOUNTFUL—Take a step back in history at Liberty Hills Academy's open house May 17 featuring well-known collector Brent Ashworth.

"Celebrating Heroes of Liberty" will be held from 6:30 p.m. – 8:30 p.m. at the school, 95 North Main Street, Bountiful. The event is free and open to the public, dinner is $3 per plate.

Liberty Hills Academy (LHA) is an accredited, nonprofit private school for students in preschool through 12th grade. The school started in 2014 and recently purchased the former Wight House Reception Center on Main Street. The upper floor was converted to classrooms, with the assembly hall and ballroom available for community and school events.

LHA aligns its curriculum with the teachings of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints where students build strong moral character, personal responsibility, love of liberty and country in addition to strong academics, according to Assistant Principal Illiana Clift.

"Davis County is the home of several private schools but ours is the only one of its kind that we know of," said Clift. "Unfortunately, very few people are aware that we exist. One recent guest referred to LHA as 'the best-kept secret.'"

A partial list of Ashworth's exhibit features:
- Thomas Jefferson's handwritten and signed "Last Prayer" letter, 1817
- Benjamin Franklin's handwritten letter signed to his sister Jane Mecum in Boston, 1758
- Original Poor Richard's Almanac, 1756
- Abraham Lincoln's Presidential Order signed, establishing the nation's first National Fast Day during the Civil War in 1861
- Helen Keller writing on how blind children celebrate Christmas, 1906
- The Titanic Bible, 1912

"The artifacts Brent will show highlight the school's mission as well as the open house theme," Clift said. "Our students likewise will exhibit their Unsung Heroes research projects of people who, with no expectation for recognition or reward, have made a difference in the lives of others."

has been out of love of community service.

"Over these nearly 20 years, the CCC has been called out at least five times to help out with emergencies, from torrential rain storms, to the rollover tanker truck on Highway 89 that forced a good portion of the city to evacuate. Each time was a learning experience for the next inevitable time. The system of area coordinators was helpful to gather information about needs, injuries, etc.

"Besides attending countless meetings, Carol has served on the county emergency preparedness committee, she has helped compile and distribute the preparedness books that each household should have (it's now available online on the city website), she has helped put on emergency preparedness fairs in our city and in Farmington."

"She and Gary are parents to four children, 16 grandchildren, and nine great grandkids."

"She was honored in 2004 as Fruit Heights City's Unsung Hero," Busche said. "But that was 15 years ago. So, we once again want to publicly thank Carol for her service and wish her the best in her retirement. Thank you, Carol!!"

And thanks to Council member Busche for providing this tribute.

BOUNTIFUL—Play hockey, go swimming, shoot hoops or get a workout — all under the same roof. The South Davis Recreation District offers a little bit of everything but now they're looking to the future to make improvements. Last week they held an open house to allow the public to provide feedback and see some of the possible ideas for the Master Plan process.

"It's something we started talking about last fall," said Executive Director Tif Miller. "We reached out to the community with a survey in December to ask what their desires are for the facility. What they liked and didn't like and we received about 1,600 responses."

Miller said they had mostly positive responses from the survey. "It ran for about a month and concluded in February. We can't do everything but we want to do what we can to service the most people."

The facility is 12 years old now. "The community is growing and interests are changing," he said. "We have the largest swimming lessons and Junior Jazz participation in the state but we want to improve services. Gym space is at a premium for us."

Feedback included an outdoor pool and more family changing rooms. "With the age of the facility we also have to look toward maintenance," he said.

VCBO Architecture is conducting the study. "The most important thing to consider is adding to the recreation district," said Whitney Ward with VCBO. "It's pretty big geographically with most of it on this site. If we added Pickle ball, gym space, an outdoor seasonal pool, a robust climbing wall, it would ease some pressure on those things."

"I'd love to see improvements, but we should utilize the resources we already have," said one resident who took the survey and came to the open house to get more information. "It's under utilized. It's a great facility so we should figure out ways to improve what we've got."

They've spent a lot of money on some great things — let's make use of that and maybe add some new things."

Another resident also expressed concern. "We're getting hit with new taxes all over," he said. "I use the ice rink and stuff but there are plenty of places to workout. I don't think we should tax grandmas and grandpas who don't use it but have to pay for it. Others shouldn't have to pay for my hobbies."

He suggested people in the community should come together through fundraising and donations to build a swimming pool rather than the government. "It's not as fancy but works just as good," he said. "If it's something the community really cares about have them work together to build it."

Part of the study looks at expanding services throughout the district and not all at the recreation center site. "We might consider a pool in North Salt Lake, etc.,” Miller said. "We want to see what's possible in the community and outreach to them as well. We might look to do another survey and narrow it down over the next few months. We have to know what we're looking at before we make any decisions."
EXCELLENCE HONORED
The Davis School District Board of Education honored several people for outstanding achievements at last week’s meeting. Clockwise from top: The Bountiful High Drill Team has defended their state title for 20 years; Student board member Caden Zesiger finished his term; Leilani Merrell for her work as Fairfield Jr. High Science Olympiad Coordinator; Woods Cross High science teacher Janette Duffin, Chemistry Department head; Heather Anderson, Student board member completed her term.

Powerful brain, healthy body

by Becky GINOS
bginos@davisclipper.com

CENTERVILLE—What would it take to form habits that bring more peace and well being, not just for today but also for a lifetime? According to Brent Hale, Ph.D, it starts in the brain.

“When a person is making changes in life it happens in their head,” said Hale, co-founder of Blomquist Hale Consulting. “That’s where habits reside. It starts by changing the habit in the brain. When we try to acquire a new habit we regularly focus on it. That takes 66 trials before it becomes automatic.”

However, the latest research of functional MRIs shows it takes about three weeks, he said. “How do you do that? We have to look at changing our thinking and consequently our habits change for a lifetime.”

Hale and Functional Nutritionist Sinead Urwin, MA, AADP are teaching a four-week workshop called Powerful Brain, Healthy Body as part of the Centerville Cares program to help residents make life changes for better all around mental and physical health.

“I look at it from a holistic perspective – the whole person,” said Urwin. “If someone is having a problem with food, drugs, alcohol, it probably stems from somewhere else in life. Food, lifestyle, exercise can help the body heal.”

How does one achieve a healthy body? “Examine what we can eat, how we can move and live to be vibrantly healthy,” Hale said. “What’s normal for you? You’ll find you do the same things over and over again. This is not just starting a diet for a short time then stopping it. This is changing a lifestyle.”

Individuals have to figure out what they’re willing to do for the rest of their lives, he said. “It’s a journey – one step at a time to get a longer life of energy, full of vitality, good health and connectedness. The good news is our bodies are built to heal.”

Hale said the idea is for habits to become a lifestyle, not just an isolated event. “They’re not conscious they’re just what you do. You decide where you want to go and actually get there. Then we feel more in control of our lives and in charge of ourselves. Change is a process.”

The workshop is meant to be a group not a class, he said. “It’s structured training, evidence based on brain research. The goal is to empower successful change.”

Hale listed eight keys to success:

• Be open minded and curious about new possibilities
• Be willing to take responsibility for your actions
• Actually do it, don’t just think about it
• Attend follow up support groups
• Attend the workshops
• Be fully engaged in the experience
• Be honest with yourself and challenge yourself
• Challenge old habits of thinking

The center of Hope is a nonprofit in the north salt Lake, Woods Cross, Foxboro, and West Bountiful. However, they never deny services to anyone in need from any ZIP code. The Center of Hope is open the second Saturday and last Saturday of every month from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. “Our activity levels have changed,” he said. “Kids are not out playing, we’re spending more time in front of computers and TV. These are all lifestyle habits. The consequence of our sad lifestyle is we’re fat, sick and depressed. It’s depriving us of years of healthy living. But it doesn’t have to happen.”

Urwin said her clients tell her they didn’t know how bad they felt until they knew what it was like to feel good. “I had Type II diabetes and I don’t have it anymore – this is real.”

People just accept things like fatigue, depression and weight gain as their norm, she said. “We have to figure out why we’re sick. If we know all the pieces of the puzzle we can identify where the problems came from. It’s a holistic approach to find the reason why we created those behaviors. These are years in the making, a cumulative effect of long-term unhealthy living. We can become empowered to rewrite our health story.”

Despite a late-season slump, the Woods Cross boys soccer team qualified for the Class 5A state tournament. The Wildcats finished the regular season in a three-way tie with Box Elder and Farmington for third place in Region 5 with a 4-5-1 record. Tiebreaker scenarios put Box Elder in the No. 3 spot, but the Wildcats and Farmington had to settle things on the field to decide which team would claim the fourth and final tournament spot from the region.

Bountiful secured the Region 5 title, losing just two league matchups out of 15 games, while Davis and Farmington will also head to the postseason. Woods Cross and Viewmont's seasons came to an end this week.

Davis

Davis defeated Fremont 3-2 May 8 in a key matchup with the two squads battling for second place in Region 1 behind Layton. "It was a well-played game by both teams," head coach Mylei Zachman said. "I love the way our girls are competing."

Lexi Sunderland had the key hit, according to Zachman, although she noted that "there were many key plays throughout the game." Paige Elkins drove in two runs to also contribute offensively. Kya Wilmott picked up the win on the mound for the Darts.

Against Layton May 9, Davis lost 11-3. The Darts scored first with two runs in the top of the second while the Lancers scored seven over the next two innings to take command of the game. The Darts added a run in the sixth inning in the eight-run loss. The Darts finished the regular season with an 8-4 Region 1 record and an overall 15-6 mark.

In the first round of the 6A state tournament, Davis was scheduled to face Herriman May 14.

Bountiful

Bountiful lost to Herriman 8-3 May 6. The Braves scored first but were down 5-1 by the end of the third inning and 8-1 going into the final inning where they had two runs cross the plate in the five-run loss.
Bountiful then lost to Box Elder 3-2. The teams were tied at 1-1 through four innings before the Bees scored two runs at the end of the sixth inning. Alyssa Bowles and Shambre Maestas both hit doubles in the loss.

On Senior Day and on a day Bountiful honored former coach Wes White who passed away recently, the Braves started strong against Woods Cross and held a 6-0 lead before the Wildcats got on the board with two runs to end the top of the fourth inning. In the bottom half of the fourth, the Braves answered with six more runs in the 10-run victory May 9.

Sophia Stoddard hit a home run in the first inning to get Bountiful on the board. Corinne Hall recorded the win on the mound for the Braves with a four-hitter and five strikeouts while also going 2-for-2 at the plate.

Bountiful secured the Region 5 title with a 13-2 record and move on to the first round of the 5A state tournament to face Timpview May 14.

Viewmont

Viewmont lost 11-0 to Farmington May 9 as the Vikings continue to search for its first region win of the year.

Against Roy May 10, Viewmont lost 12-0, getting down early with an 11-0 deficit after three innings.

The team has struggled offensively and late and didn’t score in its last five games of the season.

The Vikings ended the year with an overall record of 2-20 with two wins against Highland 23-8 March 9 and Jordan 20-17 March 15.

Woods Cross

Woods Cross lost to Logan 10-0 May 8. The Wildcats found themselves down early with the Grizzlies scoring in each of the game’s first four innings.

Against Bountiful May 9, Woods Cross lost 12-2. The Wildcats couldn’t get on the board until the fourth inning with two runs, but they were already down by six runs at that point and then gave up six more runs to end the game. Freshman Allison Eberts hit a home run in the loss.

In a battle for the fourth and final Region 5 playoff spot, Woods Cross faced Farmington May 10 and the game literally came down to the very last play.

The Phoenix scored runs over the first five innings and held a 3-0 lead until the bottom of the fifth inning when Woods Cross scored three to tie up the game thanks to a triple by junior Ari Ayala. With two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning, Eberts got on base to get things started, Jade Valdez beat out a throw, Ayala was intentionally walked and junior Sadie Bevan singled to right to win the game 4-3.

Valdez was the winning pitcher for Woods Cross while Niki Golightly and Eberts had two hits each to lead the Wildcats offensively.

A state play-in game between Farmington and Woods Cross, both with 7-8 region records, was played Monday, May 13 for the chance to play in the 5A state tournament. The Wildcats lost 7-3.

Farmington

Farmington lost 9-2 against Roy May 8. The Phoenix scored first but were down 3-1 by the end of the first inning. A run in the third closed the gap to 3-2 before Roy answered in the bottom half of the inning with a run of their own.

Five runs in the sixth inning for the Royals sealed Farmington’s fate. Delaney Baker and Haley Eichmeier led the Phoenix offensively.

Against Viewmont May 9, the Phoenix jumped out to a 6-0 lead in the first inning and won 11-0.

Baker and Eichmeier again led Farmington with three hits each with Eichmeier driving in two runs. Baker also recorded six strikeouts on the mound.

The Phoenix lost to Woods Cross 4-3 May 10 despite scoring the game’s first three runs. Kylie Tingey had two hits with Baker and Haley McFarland each driving in a run.

SOFTBALL

At point one but went 0-3-1 in its last four games, including a 1-0 double-overtime loss to Farmington on May 7.

Farmington

As for the Phoenix, it was a disappointing end to an inaugural season that featured some solid play and memorable highlights.

Farmington finished with an overall record of 4-9-1, but the team picked up a pair of wins over Woods Cross and defeated playoff-bound Roy 2-1 on May 3. The Phoenix also gave region champion Viewmont all it could handle in both meetings. They tied the Vikings 0-0 earlier in the season and played hard in a 1-0 loss Friday.

Mason McRae was the team’s leading scoring this season with five goals. Bountiful

The Braves went 3-7 in Region 5 to come in last place. However, the team made some strides from last season when it finished with just one region win and one victory overall.

Last week, Bountiful needed a pair of victories to slip into playoff contention. The Braves defeated Woods Cross on Friday in a 1-0 defensive battle. But the team had lost to Box Elder 3-1 three days earlier to effectively put an end to postseason hopes.

Next season, the Braves will be looking for a return to the state tournament for the first time since 2016.
Prep baseball teams secure spots in state tourney

The final week of play in high school baseball was a big one, as some Davis County squads punched their tickets to the postseason.

Farmington

In its first-ever season on the field, Farmington equipped itself nicely, finishing in second place in Region 5 with a 9-6 record. The Phoenix were runners-up with Viewmont but snagged the No. 2 seed by defeating the Vikings two out of three times.

Viewmont

The Vikings made a nice surge in region play after a rough non-region slate. The Vikings ended up just one game back of region champion Roy.

Woods Cross

For Bountiful, Anthony Wuthrich hit a double, but the team couldn’t match its output from the previous two games when they defeated Woods Cross 4-3 and 5-3.

"Mom" is my favorite comedy, but did I miss something? Early in season six, they explained why Christy's daughter Violet was no longer on the show, but what about her son, Roscoe? He just disappeared and isn't even mentioned. — B.H.

When "Mom" premiered on CBS in 2013, Anna Faris' character, Christy, had two children and the focus of the sitcom was on her and co-star Allison Janney's funny but dysfunctional relationship. After a few years, Chuck Lorre, co-creator of the show, decided that in order to keep the show fresh, the writers had to expand Christy's life outside of the home. Mimi Kennedy and Jaime Pressly joined the cast as fellow AA group members, and son Roscoe (Blake Garrett Rosenthal) was never seen again. We're just supposed to assume he's alive – somewhere.

"Mom" has been renewed for two more seasons. Perhaps on the series finale, Roscoe will come down from the attic, sporting a long beard, and explain that he's been playing Fortnite for the past several years. Joking aside, I believe the show will address his absence one way or another because plenty of viewers are irritated by the lack of explanation.

Q: Where is actress Monica Raymund?

What is she doing now, and why did she leave "Chicago Fire"? — R.L.

After six seasons of playing first responder Gabriela Dawson on the hit NBC shows "Chicago Fire" and "Chicago P.D.," Monica Raymund decided it was time for a change. In an interview last September with the Chicago Tribune, she said that even though she would miss her work family terribly, she was ready to make her home in Los Angeles and seek out gittier projects.

Q: "Manifest" has a lot of fans anticipating its return. In a recent column, I announced the good news that it's been renewed by NBC for a second season. I would anticipate its return this fall. As for "Schitt's Creek," creators and stars of the show, Eugene and Dan Levy, recently announced that the next season will be its last. The comedy has grown in popularity since it debuted on the Pop network, but the Leveys wanted it to go out on a high note. The final 14-episode season won't air until sometime in 2020.

Ramona Jane Fisher Allison

Oct. 27, 1940 – May 7, 2019
Ramona Jane Fisher Allison died peacefully on May 7, 2019, with family surrounding her, after a courageous battle with cancer. Born in Ogden, on Oct. 27, 1940, to Clifford and Rosetta Fisher, Ramona grew up in West Point, and graduated from Davis High School in 1958. She then married Charles Evans of Clinton. Although they later divorced, their marriage produced two beloved sons, Cornell and Troy.

In 1964, Ramona met and married the love of her life, John Allison, through whom she gained a wonderful step-son, Bret. They settled in Kaysville, and together had a beautiful daughter, Jodi.

Ramona proudly and rapidly ascended the leadership ladder in her career at Hill Air Force Base, starting as a secretary and ending up as the highest ranking female civilian director of a major organization there. Along the way, she received an MBA.

After retirement, Ramona and John traveled the world together and enjoyed living in Mazatlan for part of each year. Ramona loved camping, boating, skiing, playing bridge and golf, and gourmet cooking. Most of all, she loved her family and friends, with whom she shared all these activities.

Ramona pampered her grandchildren, arranging Halloween and Easter hunts in her yard, and taking them on trips and countless other activities. She was fun, always on the go, full of life and love, and cherished by all. She will truly be missed.

Ramona was preceded in death by her husband John and daughter Jodi, and by her sisters Lois and Betty. Surviving are her sons Cornell Evans (Andrea) of Centerville, and Troy Evans (Kathy) of Layton; her step-son Bret Allison (Mike Sims) of Palm Springs; her brother Farrell Fisher (Louiene) of Mt. Dean Corbett Argyle

Dean Corbett Argyle, husband, father, grandfather, and great grandfather, devoted church leader, and community and business leader, passed away peacefully on the evening of May 6, 2019.

Dean was born in Bountiful, on Oct. 4, 1928 to Thomas M. Argyle and Mary Jane Corbett Argyle. He attended elementary and junior high school in Bountiful, Utah and graduated from Davis High school. He also attended LDS Business College in Salt Lake City and Columbia University in New York.

Dean served a full-time LDS mission in the Central Atlantic States from 1948 to 1950. After being released from his first mission, he married LaRue Holbrook in the Salt Lake Temple. In their later years, they served together as full-time missionaries in the Adelaida, Australia Mission.

Dean worked for Mountain Bell Company for 30 years in Salt Lake City, Ogden, Denver, Pocatello, Idaho Falls, and Boise. He retired in 1985.

He was a faithful member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints his entire life. He served in many church assignments including teacher, scout master, bishop, high counselor, and stake presidency. He and his wife, LaRue, also served in the Presidency of the LDS Family History Mission during 1995 to 1998. He established many enduring friendships throughout his Church service and the desire to spend much of his spare time writing family histories and of his own life experiences.

Dean’s civic, military, and government service included being an active member of Rotary International, the Chamber of Commerce, and Boy Scouts of America. He also served four years in the United States Air Force. In 1984, he was elected Mayor of Centerville, Utah and, for his leadership, was Leader of the Year by the local business community.

In 1984, he and his wife, LaRue, were called to serve in the Salt Lake Temple and continued this service in the Bountiful Utah and Idaho Falls Idaho temples for 22 years. Within these temples, Dean enjoyed his most cherished service.

Daryl Lyn Richmond Thompson

1947-2019
Dar passed away on May 5, 2019 in Salt Lake City and will be deeply missed. She was greeted by loved ones and all her pets.

She was born on May 30, 1947 in Salt Lake City, the daughter of John Albert Richmond and Elaine Isabel Boyle. She married Michael Joe Thompson Nov. 21, 1968 in Farmington.

Dar will be remembered by her wonderful sarcastic sense of humor and storytelling. She was most comfortable on a barstool with a Budweiser in hand and bull$%&*# with friends. Dar loved her caring family in Mazatlan, Mexico and her favorite backyard bar – La Casa del Camaron. Our family would like to thank them all for such good care of Dar. We should all be so lucky and live like she did.

Dar is survived by her brother Dennis Richmond, her children Taylor J, JoLayne and Andrew J; grandchildren Michael, James, Kelsey, Andrew and Yasabella; great-grandchildren Michael and Kaylee and one on the way. Family and friends are welcome to Dar’s Celebration of Life on May 18 at the Johnson’s home, 1437 South Wasatch Drive, Salt Lake City, Utah 84105 from 4 to 7 p.m. In lieu of flowers please hug a loved one. Joyce Joanne Briggs Adams

1934-2019
Joyce, age 85, of Spanish Fork, passed of a stroke on April 28, 2019 at home in Bluffdale. Joyce, born March 10, 1934 was the biological daughter of Emil and Phyllis (Tietjen) Algier. Phyllis passed of tuberculosis leaving three daughters under the age of three, two of the children were placed in foster care in the loving home of Jesse E. and Blanche Aston Briggs.

Joyce remained there until graduating from Davis High School, class of 1952; and at 18 legally signed her own adoption papers to these wonderful caring parents. Joyce worked for a time after high school, eventually moving to California where she met her sweetheart Edwin Verl Adams, son of Ruby May Hancock and George Rudger Adams. They married May 23, 1956 in the Salt Lake Temple. Following her mother, Blanche’s footsteps, they took in foster children and eventually adopted two little girls, who were half-sisters. For a time they continued to take in other foster children as well.

Moving took the family between Utah and Arizona – for five years, and back to Utah where they settled in Salem and eventually Spanish Fork. Joyce was a true helpmate to her husband in whatever was needed. Her working experience in retail jobs provided the opportunity to do what she did best: care and love other people. Twenty-four years was spent working for Wonder Bread, finishing off with a brief time at Macey’s in Spanish Fork. Her love of Jesus Christ was evident in everything she did and the outpouring of love and thanks she is receiving.

Joyce will be greatly missed by family, friends and many extended relatives. Preceded in death by her husband Verl on March 9, 2016 who passed of pancreatic cancer. She is survived by her two daughters Melinda Adams, LeAnn (Watt) Morris; seven granddaughters and five great-grandchildren. Special thanks to the Applegate Hospice Care of American Fork and Nelson Family Mortuary of Orem, in the caring of our beloved mother. Memorial Services: May 18, 2019 at 11 a.m. at the 1st Ward Chapel, 310 East Center Street, Spanish Fork. Preceded by a condoleance reception at 9:30 a.m.
Leah Moulton Calder

May 25, 1916 - May 11, 2019

Leah Moulton Calder, passed away peacefully Saturday, May 11, 2019 at Welcome Home Assisted Living in Bountiful, with her family by her side. Leah was born May 25, 1916 to Mary Catherine Hicken Moulton and Hyrum Moulton. She loved growing up in her beloved Heber Valley as the middle child of a loving family of three brothers and three sisters. She graduated from Wasatch High School on her 18th birthday in 1934. During high school she cherished her membership on the Wasatch Wasps Dance Team. Dancing was her passion and she attended every prom and dance. In addition, she was elected Queen of the Heber 2nd Ward Gold & Green Ball. While visiting her aunt Helen Duke and cousin Margie in Vernal in the summers, she was advised she could date anyone but “leadfoot” Clive Calder. Needless to say, they were married May 10, 1939 in the Salt Lake LDS Temple. Clive and Leah are the proud parents of five children: Clive Douglas (Linda), Boise, Idaho, Gary Lynn (Debbie), Key Largo, FL, Grand Lakes, CO, Phillip Moulton (Twila), Herriman, Stephen Pontha (JoAnn), Foxfield, CO, and Colleen Craven (Shawn), Farmington. They have 13 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren, and a baby girl and boy on the way. She is also survived by her sister, Donna Dayton. Preceded in death by the love of her life, Clive K. Calder; granddaughters, Cindy Kaye Calder and Kelsi Shawn Craven, and brother-in-law Earl Dayton, as well as siblings, Rufus (Ivie), infant Rhea, Glen (Rachel), Blanche (Don) Hawke, infant Thomas, Marvel (Del) Neeley and Dean (Glenna) Moulton. Leah’s hobbies included reading, until macular degeneration took that joy from her, walking with her friends in the Bountiful Tabernacle, into her 90s, and traveling the world, including Europe with Colleen, Guatemala, New England with Donna and Earl, and many trips with Clive to Yellowstone, L.A., Carmel, Vernal “the mountain” camping and fishing, Reno, Lake Tahoe and Arizona.

She loved her family gatherings at their backyard BBQs with the kids and grandkids, where “Clive Burgers” were always enjoyed. Many fond memories were made. Leah was a member of Utah’s “most exclusive club!” celebrat- ing centenarians. What an honor this was for her picture to be featured with Governor Herbert on the front page of the local section of the Deseret News last year!

She was a lifelong faithful member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and served in many callings including first recipient of this award. In addition, she was elected Queen of the Heber 2nd Ward Gold & Green Ball.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday, May 18, 2019 at Walker Mortuary 187 S. Main St., Spanish Fork. It is at the family's request that no flowers be sent. Contributions may be made to the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society or the American Heart Association.
